

Saturday May 27th 2017

De Partu meeting and seminars in historic York

Friday afternoon (26th May)

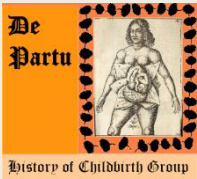

There will be an optional guided tour of York Minster, at 3pm given by our own Minster tour guide Professor Mary Nolan
This will be followed by a De Partu meeting and then an early informal dinner in nearby restaurant (partners welcome)

Tour bookings and/or dinner reservations can be made via the website from the end of March 2017

Continued...

Saturday May 27th 2017

De Partu history of childbirth seminars: call for papers

York Explore Library

10.00pm - 4.15pm

Non-members welcome

Cultural interpretations of the birthing phenomenon have evolved considerably through time and place from ancient times to the present day

Thirty-minute presentations are invited on all topics related to the history of childbirth

Ten-minute Pecha Kucha presentations are also welcome, e.g. on work in progress, historical research methods, or incidental historical findings

The atmosphere will be informal and supportive PhD students are welcome

Please send proposals (maximum 300 words) for presentations to m.nolan@worc.ac.uk and jcadepartu@gmail.com
by March 14th 2017*